Thirtieth Sunday of the Year - 25th October 2015

Parish
Pastoral Council

On November 7th-8th, parishioners will be asked to nominate some new members to serve on the Parish Pastoral Council. Pens and paper will be available at all Masses, you will be asked to nominate someone you believe would serve the Parish well in this role. Your nominations will then be collected and new members selected to join the PPC for the next three years.

Two of our present members; Nuala Hawkins and Peadar Grennan have each served two terms on the PPC and are consequently not eligible for nomination.

We will speak further about this at Masses next weekend and ask that you give some thought and prayer to the selection of the new PPC.

"Lord," he said, "let me see again".

How sad it is to lose sight. To have seen and not be able to see anymore must be a terrible burden and, at times, a lonely place. The prayer then, in this weekend's Gospel, is not just a prayer for a miracle but a prayer to see again what was once clearly seen.

Even with eyes wide open and with 20-20 vision, the prayer may well be ours. To see again the love you have for another, to see again the enthusiasm of childhood faith, to see again, the promise of life, to see again hope.

What or who do we most need to see "again"?

KILMOVEE URLAUR GROUP WATER SCHEME

"We urge people to check their meters as the water usage has risen over the past few weeks which indicates leaks on the system. Regular monitoring means early detection which means lower bills and less waste. If you have not paid your bill we urge you to do so. Refusal to enter into some type of repayment plan will eventually lead to customers having their supply cut off. Meters will be read very soon. If you are around when they are read and your reading is high, the meter reader will inform you of this." (Committee Message)
