3rd Sunday of Easter

1st May 2022

St Joseph

“Scripture does not recount a single word of his; silent and humble, he always stands aside letting Mary and Jesus go ahead of him... In Joseph we see an ideal combination of inner strength and gentleness of character.” Archbishop Neary

In Joseph we see an ideal combination of inner strength and gentleness of character. In a world where women are subjected to violence we see Joseph, somebody who is respectful, protective and supportive in his role as the legal father of Jesus and the husband of Mary. In his relationship with God, Joseph readjusts his plan to coincide with the broader picture of the salvation that God is bringing about.

Not surprisingly Pope Pius IX declared Joseph as the Patron of the Catholic Church. As a church we are living through challenging times as we cope with confusion, division and the absence of hope among many people. Yet there is much genuine goodness as people appreciate role models and search for God. As one who lived through confusing events, coped with uncertainty, listened and responded to the promptings of the Lord, Joseph, though silent speaks very significantly to our world today.
