Easter – A Time of Hope

There is something very appropriate about celebrating Easter in Springtime. Nature is in tune with our celebration. Over recent weeks we have all seen our gardens come to life again, with spring flowers in bloom and plants of all kinds showing signs of new growth. Our gardens may have looked somewhat bleak over the winter, but we knew the bleakness was only temporary. We lived in hope and knew our hope would not be disappointed. Hope is one of the key qualities of Christian Life. It changes the way we look at death and it also colours how we deal with the ups and downs of this earthly life. Christian rituals around death and funerals are permeated with hope. As Jesus loved and died in God so do we and the love of God for us has no end.
