3rd Sunday of Easter

April 18th & 19th 2026

The Spirit Lives in You and Me

In the morning our minds easily become flooded with tasks, chores, places to be, things to do. We can feel overwhelmed. Then our daily tasks take on a life of their own, pushing and pulling this way and that. It doesn't take long before the "tyranny of the urgent" makes its demands felt and we lose not just our composure but our patience too. An alternative is that rather than be controlled by tasks, chores and events, we can be led and guided by the Holy Spirit. During Easter we have an opportunity to reflect on the Acts of the Apostles and the early Christians and how they related to the Gospel message of Jesus with patience as they were guided by the Holy Spirit.

Let us pray;

Come Holy Spirit fill the hearts of your faithful and enkindle within us the fire of your love.

DEATH NOTICE
